The higher criticism

Needless panic about the higher criticism 1 what is meant by it 2 the plain duty of close examination 3 obvious facts a the bible to the vast majority only accessible in translations b all translations more or less inadequate c no translation free from serious errors d the exact text not always ascertainable e the bible retains all the forms of a human literature f various interpretations g the bible itself necessitates criticism h its gradual perfectionment 4 these facts inevitably admitted by the most earnest apologists mr gladstone 5 inquiry therefore an imperative obligation 6 and the results of inquiry must not be hushed up 7 the bible must be humanly interpreted 8 no truth of religion in the slightest degree affected 9 the authority of christ and his allusions to scripture when rightly interpreted absolutely ratify these conclusions 10 christ and the prophets conclusions 133
